reetings unto the Populace!!

We would like to say a big Thank You to everyone who helped make Alderford's Masque of Courtly Love such a success. A lot of hard work went into making it happen and we couldn't be prouder of those who made it happen!!

We know most of you have seen the Society's latest directives in regards to gathering during the plague. Please keep in mind that further direction will be coming from Kingdom level. Stay cautious, keep safety in mind, and above all be patient.

Spring is in the air and brighter days are coming. Hopefully, you're able to get outside and soak up some of this gorgeous weather we're having. We've been seeing lots of pictures on social media of folks getting out practicing archery, thrown weapons and hiking in the woods. Keep up the good works!!!

We look forward to the time when we can all come together again! We know we've repeated that a hundred times, but it doesn't change the fact that you are all in our thoughts and our hearts. Be kind to one another. Be safe. And see you all soon.

Yours in Service,
Cadwgan and Eadaoin
Baron and Baroness of Brendoken

Greetings and salutations from the staff of the First Bardic War. We are gratified by your interest and enthusiasm for the upcoming war. We ourselves are very excited and we look forward to hosting this event for you.

Since they've come up a number of times, we want to clarify a few points. While it is called the First Bardic War, in its expanse it is truly a Performing Arts War, as inclusive as we can make it. Dance, theatre, we have it. We are including A&S. We are also working on ways that the martial community can participate by incorporating some of the workout activities that they are already doing at home, within the current guidelines and restrictions of the SCA.

While there is a limit to the number of war-point competitions one can enter, this is to allow as many people as possible to get a chance to participate in fighting for their side. Neither volunteering nor teaching will prevent anyone from being able to enter any war point activities or count against the limit of war point competitions one might enter. Please also be aware that we intend to provide ample non war-point activities, so there will be plenty of things for most everyone to do.

We are working hard to get clear information out in a timely manner, but as this is a New Thing, we want to craft it well first, so we ask your patience if we do not have every answer ready right now. If you do have any questions, please feel free to reach out to us. We are doing our best to give everyone the best war possible, and we look forward to seeing you there!
